Long-term contracts up to 2022 for Congrex Switzerland

Congrex Switzerland is proud to announce that several important long-term contracts have been signed in the last few weeks.

The longest contract ever in Congrex Switzerland's history was signed in May with the European Stroke Organisation (ESO), which has decided to re-elect them for another six years as Association Management Company until end of 2022. The contract comprises a multitude of ESO projects including stroke unit and stroke centre certification but also the organisation of the European Stroke Science Workshop and the ESO & Karolinska Stroke Update Conference. "We are delighted to sign this long-term contract with Congrex Switzerland. Their team is highly professional and caring and are an important support in implementing ESO's strategic goals", says Valeria Caso, ESO President.

Already in April, after a successful delivery of the Registration Services for the almost 12'500 participants of ECCMID 2017, the European Society of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases has decided to extend the partnership with Congrex Switzerland to the years 2019 and 2020.

And last week, the European Association for the Study of the Liver (EASL) agreed to sign a three years contract for Registration Services for the International Liver Congress™ 2018 to 2020 with over 10'000 participants.

Further new conferences in the portfolio of Congrex Switzerland are:

- Oral Reconstruction World Symposium
- Annual Meeting of the Swiss Stroke Society
- International Conference on Reproduction, Pregnancy and Rheumatic Diseases
- International Conference of the German Society of Nursing Science
- Annual Meeting of the International Association of Professional Congress Organisers – IAPCO (see corresponding press release here)

"The recent long-term agreements with important international clients confirm our strategy to offer customised solutions in all aspects of the meeting management." says Managing Director Alain Pittet and adds "My Key Account Directors and co-owners Julia Bicher and Sabine Adam are excellent strategic consultants to our clients and together with their team deliver conferences and meetings with memorable delegates' experiences."
